DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- Claims 1-21, 48-59, drawn to coupling of two different network interfaces that operate in different protocol statuses, classified in class 370, subclass 466.
- II. Claims 22-36, drawn to a protocol bridging method wherein a "frame" defines a specific field to indicate that a protocol bridge should operate in a specific mode and other than desired by the protocol bridge, classified in class 370, subclass 401.
- III. Claims 37-47, drawn to specific bridging protocols wherein a field within a received frame dictates whether a target read or write mode operation should be performed and if so, than providing an appropriate command frame to an network processor, classified in class 370, subclass 467. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, and II and III are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because group (I) requires coupling of two distinct interfaces operating in one or more different protocol modes, which do not require specific framing field indicators as in Groups (II) or (III).

Application/Control Number: 10/659,538

The subcombination of Groups (II) and (III);

Group (II) requires that a specific frame format field be used to indicate whether a processor is operate in one or another mode of operation.

Group (III) requires that a specific frame format within a received frame dictate whether a target read or write mode operation should be performed and if so, than providing an appropriate command frame to an network processor.

The subcombination has separate utility such specific frame field definitions which direct an frame to perform a desired operation within a network.

The above inventions are separate, distinct, and independent. Neither requires other for its implementation, they have separate statuses in the art as shown by their different classification. Each invention, if allowable would be capable of supporting a separate patent. Therefore, restriction for examination purposes is proper.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.
